Description

The Acer SR1 is our latest generation of game improvement irons to push the envelope on distance, accuracy, and all-around performance. Accelerate ball speed, launch, and distance with the ultra-thin face, which improves weight distribution to push the center of gravity low and rearward complementing the modern-day lofts. SR1 is aimed to fit the broadest range of golfers with ample offset where it is needed most. Coupled with the deep cavity design, this helps the player square up the face at impact assisting the player to hit straighter and more solid shots and to instill confidence in their long, mid, and short-iron game.

The deep undercut cavity coupled with the enhanced heel-toe weighting provides more forgiveness on off-center shots. Variable offset throughout the set helps the average player square up the face at impact to hit straighter and more solid shots.
