Description

Golf Pride MCC Plus4 Align Midsize golf grip

The new Golf Pride MCC Plus4 Align still offers the proven features of all Multicompound grips. However, with a slightly softer compound. In addition, the shape has been improved as tested on tour. Most tour players build up their grips so that they apply less grip pressure with their hands. With a 4.6% larger outer diameter in the lower hand, the Plus 4 helps reduce grip pressure, which improves your release so that you ultimately hit better and further.

The technology for better alignment:

once the grip is installed, the red ridge rises on the back of the grip (ribbed), giving you more confidence when gripping and aligning. This gives your hand better traction every time you grip. Of course, this also gives you more consistency: when the clubface meets the ball, it is much more likely to be square to the ball.
